Report:

Another outstanding performance from the team, especially from Richard and Guru taking all three of their games although the "win or lose in two" philosophy appears to have been forgotten at least for one night. Also a great performance from Peter and Jesson who battled through to take two of their three games. Chris and Phil easily took their first game but then were caught up by small baby and jet lag respectively. Still, three out of three for the beginning of the season. A great start
